Climate change panel slated Sunday

Guy McPherson, host of the radio show and blog, "Nature Bats Last," will take part in a panel discussion about climate change from 3-5 p.m. Sunday at the Resource Center for Nonviolence, 612 Ocean St.

McPherson, professor emeritus of natural resources and the environment at the University of Arizona, has been writing about climate change since 2006, as well as speaking about the topic at numerous educational and scientific conferences.

He will be joined by Rick Nolthenius, chair of Astronomy at Cabrillo College, Joe Jordan, formerly of NASA and SETI and now teaching renewable energy at Cabrillo, and by Carol Stoker, a planetary scientist at NASA Ames Research Center.
